CROP EXPERT MAKES STUDY OF FOOT ROT

METHODS OF CONTROLLING DISEASE OUTLINED.

P. C. Mangelsdorf and County Agent Upchurch Make Further Identification of Fungus.

Positive identification has been made of the foot rot disease in Randall and adjacent counties, according to W. H. Upchurch, county agent.

P. C. Mangelsdorf of the Texas Experiment Station at College Station, visited infested fields with Mr. Upchurch last week and made a close study of the disease.

Mr. Upchurch's description of the disease is as follows:

"This disease is more or less common over the Panhandle but seems to be a bit worse this year than ever before. We also have another disease (Scab or root rot) that is somewhat common but has caused little damage compared to the foot rot. The fungus that caused the foot rot is found on a number of grasses and for that reason is often found in wheat seeded on new land. However it is more often found where wheat follows wheat for several years. Wheat effected with foot rot is generally yellow or off color in the early spring. Later as the wheat begins to head out diseased spots show up as blighted areas and perhaps a greater portion of the plants do not head out as though a severe drought had struck the crop. Perhaps small heads will appear which contain very light grain.

"The principle characteristic to be depended upon to identify foot rot is the color of the dry rot caused by the fungus in the lower joint of the straw. One may find by pulling the stool apart that the lower joint of most of the stalks in the bunch are more or less blackened, especially on the inside of the straw. This symptom may be used to distinguish between damage done by dry weather and the fungus disease. We shall continue the study of wheat diseases throughout the balance of the season and hope through the co-operation of the experiment station to keep the wheat growers posted on the latest findings along this line.

"The best control measures for the foot rot is a simple rotation of crops. That is, change the crop to something besides wheat. Since this disease has a number of host plants it is also advisable to practice a clean cultivation for one year following a bad infestation. This would be necessary regardless of the crop grown on the land, especially where 'winter grass' happened to be the host plant for the foot rot fungus.

"Another thing that needs to be studied in regard to this fungus is the fact that the blowing of soil seems to carry the fungus. In some fields the diseased areas are almost identical with the spots that drifted during the high winds in March. This is more often the case where some host plant such as winter grass or wild barley grows along the south or west side of the field where the blowing started."

Batchelder Gives Rotarians a Lucid Interval Tuesday

The Canyon Rotary Club learned about humor from Prof. C. Wesley Batchelder of the Public Speaking Department of the College at its weekly luncheon Tuesday.

Declaring that before a person can properly appreciate humor he must learn to originate some of it, Prof. Batchelder indicated how perfectly commonplace things can be associated for purposes of amusement.

"Humor is the best medium of understanding between people," Mr. Batchelder told the Rotarians. "All of us enjoy a joke," he said, "and most of us need more practice, however," he declared.

A good listener is necessary to the humorist, he said. It always is bad form and most irritating to the joke teller to be stopped at the end of the first line to be told that "I've heard that one." The etiquette of humor demands that we listen docilely even if we have heard the story innumerable times," he said.

The best story tellers are those who can impersonate their subjects, Mr. Batchelder said. In support of this statement he told stories which, in themselves, had little humor, but by impersonating the characters, he gave the Rotarians many lucid intervals.

Guests at the luncheon Tuesday were C. W. Rogers, Jack Edwards, P. C. Bennett, Jimmie Swan, and Arthur Osgood, Amarillo Rotarians, and H. T. Knighton, Canyon.

Texan Ball Park has been equipped with 26 flood lights and other lighting effects will make the big arena in front of the grandstand as light as day.
Included among some of the world's star performers will be Vaughn Craig Johnson, known as the "Sweetheart of American Rodeo"; Tommy Kirnan, champion trick rider had roper; his wife, Bea Kirnan, known as the favorite horse lady of America; William King, Colorado's best known performer and many others.

The price range for the Rodeo is announced at $1, and box seats, $1.50.

On the night of the Fourth of July a magnificent fireworks display has been arranged. This feature alone will be spectacular.

Officials of the Tri-State Fair expect the largest gathering in Amarillo on July 3, 4, and 5, and the Rodeo management is emphatic in their promise to give a real entertainment. There will be a good many people going from here to attend both day and night performances.

REVIVAL CONTINUES AT CHURCH OF CHRIST HERE

The revival at the Church of Christ continues with increasing interest, according to officers of the church. There have been six conversions up to the present time, they reported. The preaching is being done by Gilbert E. Shaffer of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., who is a student of Freed-Hardeman Bible College, also a student of Harding Bible College. Mr. Shaffer is a young man, but has had the very best Bible instructions, and is presenting the Gospel in a simple, but forceful way. The meeting will continue through Sunday night.

CATCHES 4½ POUND BASS IN COUNTRY CLUB STREAM

T. H. Knighton and a 4½ pound black bass fought a merry battle at the Country Club yesterday. The fish lost, but Mr. Knighton still is examining his steel rod for signs of damage.

The bass was one of the largest caught near Canyon this year and supports claims of club members that good fishing is plentiful in the streams on the club property. There is indisputable evidence that Mr. Knighton did NOT use worms for bait.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Rhoads and Mr. and Mrs. Levi Cole spent Sunday with Mrs. F. C. Cole at Lockney.

COUNTY NEXT IN LINE FOR SOIL SURVEY

WORK BEGINS AS SOON AS MONEY AVAILABLE.

Designation of Randall For Next Survey Reported to County Officials Here.

Randall County has been designated for a soil survey, according to reliable information received here by county officials. If appropriation is made by the state legislature work in this county will begin with a very short time.

Petitions were circulated by Randall County farmers during December asking for the survey, and the designation placing this county next in line for the survey was made this week, it was understood.

W. H. Templen, soil expert who has just finished work in Potter County, likely will be stationed in Canyon to handle the survey in Randall County, officials believed.

Soil survey work is financed jointly by state appropriation and federal funds administered thru the Bureau of Soils. More than 55 Texas counties already have been surveyed and accurate charts prepared of their soil content. Only three counties can be surveyed each year with the present limited organization working in Texas.

While nothing definite could be learned as to the time work will start here, county officials believed the project to be contingent upon appropriations from the state treasury.

Every phase of agricultural enterprise dependent in any way upon soil is studied by the experts making a survey, and county officials believed the survey would result in general improvement of crops and livestock conditions over the county once the findings of the survey are applied by the farmers.

Many Seniors Are To Graduate Here At End of Session

Along with the largest student body yet enrolled within the walls of West Texas State Teachers College, the largest class of seniors who have ever received degrees from the college during a summer session of school are now asking for degrees to be granted at the close of the current term in August, or the close of first six weeks, according to information from the office of D. A. Shirley. On the list of summer graduates are the names of fifty-eight students, asking for B. A. and B. S. degrees.

Of the fourteen academical studies chosen by this group for their major subjects, English is apparently the most popular field of labor. Fourteen of those asking for degrees are majoring in English. The fields of education and history have attracted ten students each. Education majors have a variety of branches of this practical course from which to select. Girls who elect to major in this course have chosen either primary education or elementary education, while the men in these ranks have selected chiefly school administration.

Next in demand as a major course is home economics. Six girls will receive their degrees in the school of home economics here in August. Mathematics and manual training each have three boys who have elected to major in this course. Courses represented with two majors are: Biology, Spanish, and Agriculture. Those represented with one major each are: art, music, geography, public speaking, and physical education.

Those students who expect to receive their degrees at the close of the summer quarter are: Lorna Holland, James M. Metcalf, Vera Fry, Sue Brown Anderson, Joe Weaver, Poye Terry, Thelma Brummett, James B. Speer, Nelus Tedford, Belya Cain, Orline Clinkscapes, Amos M. Walker, Marile Lowe, Caudie Ola Brown, Guy B. Tabor, Daima Fry, Ruth Handley, Ollie Johnson, Lula Mae Irons, Delmer Ashworth, D. C. Arthur, George Heuke, Delbert Lowes, Helen Duke, Isach Mateer, Cleatice Crump, Virgil Thomas, Leo Forrest,

Trades Day Here Draws Good Crowd Despite Harvesting

Value found its reward in Canyon Monday when merchants found that they could pull business while two-thirds of the county's population was busy with harvest and preparations for harvest.

Many firms reported entirely satisfactory increases in business on Trades Day and only an occasional report of normal business was heard.

With the results obtained last Monday, all merchants were enthusiastic over prospects for the July trades day when most of the wheat harvest will have been finished.

Crop Specialist Visits in County

P. C. Mangelsdorf, agronomist in charge of small grain investigations at the Texas Experimental Station, College Station, spent the day Friday, June 21, in Randall County in company with county agent Upchurch visiting the wheat fields of the county. Mr. Mangelsdorf is assisting in identifying various wheat diseases that are found in the Panhandle, and also arranging for some wheat variety tests on farms over the wheat belt. He expressed considerable surprise at the tremendous acreage of good wheat in Randall county.

Also he was much interested in the improvements in methods and harvesting machinery.

HAIL DAMAGES LARGE ACREAGE NEAR WAYSIDE

MORE THAN 3000 ACRES HIT BY STORM.

J. W. McCreery Loses 8000 Bushels
In Two Storms Friday and Sunday.

Hail storms in and near Wayside Friday and Sunday wiped out many wheat fields completely and caused heavy damage to others. Twelve farmers, all owning large wheat acreages, reported damage closely approximating total loss.

Those farmers suffering most severely were Adam McCreery, J. E. McGehee, Kelly McGehee, Tom Knox, J. W. McCreery, Wiatt Heizler, J. C. Payne, J. E. Calwell, and Thomas Gillham.

Both storms swept up the south of the Palo Duro Canyon, completely leveling the wheat in many instances. Several of these farmers already had started cutting but none had harvested any appreciable percentage of their crop.

J. W. McCreery, the heaviest loser, suffered total loss on 1090 acres of wheat which were expected to produce more than 8000 bushels of wheat. Others of the group lost from 200 to 600 acres in the two storms.

Hail storms during the last two weeks have followed the Palo Duro consistently, causing damage around Groom, Conway, and other towns in the vicinity of the canyon.

Thirteen States Represented Here In Student Body

A survey of the enrollment at the West Texas State Teachers College for the summer term reveals that out of a student body of 1266 there are sixty-three people who have come from points that lie outside the state of Texas.

The states represented in the summer attendance are as follows: New Mexico, 40; Oklahoma, 6; Kansas, 4; Arizona, 3; and one each from North Dakota, Michigan, Kentucky, Colorado, California, Mississippi, and Arkansas; and two from Nevada.

Twelve states besides Texas and 113 counties in Texas have contributed the largest summer school attendance since the opening of the Teachers College, which shows a net gain of 164 students over last year's total enrollment during the first half of the summer session. An exceptionally heavy registration of new students is expected for the second half of the summer.

Trip is Made To Carlsbad Cavern By W. T. Students

Trips to Carlsbad Cavern are proving more popular with the summer students than any other of these being sponsored by the College. This week-end three groups of students made the trip. One group consisted of Misses Lenna McManney, Dora Holt, Alma Sprock, Ornie Walker, Nina Collins, Lucille Collins, Thelma Kinard, Beulah Fort, Inez Casey. Another carload included Misses Erna Alsop, Edna Graham, Marie Fronabarger, Elizabeth Slaton, Carrie Jenkins. Three girls from the Charles House also made this tour. They were Misses Marguerite Carpenter, Roxie Hancock, and Eula Tyler.

Fifteen students have signed up to make the trip to Carlsbad Cavern for the week-end June 29-July 1, and four have signed up to go to Pike's Peak. This trip includes other interesting points as Capulin Mountain, Raton Pass, Trinidad, Pueblo, Colorado Springs and the Royal Gorge.

The College bus will be used to carry large groups of students to the canyons for all day excursions, or if sufficient numbers wish to go on the longer trips, the bus will be used for those.

A number of interesting recreational week-end tours are planned to be carried out during the entire summer. These include trips to Taos, New Mexico; to Sierra Blanca Peak in Colorado; to Albuquerque and the cliff dwellings in New Mexico; the Ruidosa Valley; Carlsbad Cavern; Pike's Peak; the Palo Duro Canyon; and industrial trips to Amarillo and the oil field region of the Panhandle.

Misses Florence Jones and Edna Daughette spent the week-end visiting in Miami.

Carl Merriwether of Lockney visited here yesterday.

The News force likes its holidays, along with the rest of the country, and the News will be issued on Wednesday next week, thus permitting all employees to have the Fourth of July for themselves.

Co-operation of correspondents and advertisers in getting all material for publication in one day earlier than usual will be appreciated.

All Canyon business houses indicated that they would be closed for at least the greater part of the day.

Many Seniors Are To Graduate Here At End of Session

Along with the largest student body yet enrolled within the walls of West Texas State Teachers College, the largest class of seniors who have ever received degrees from the college during a summer session of school are now asking for degrees to be granted at the close of the current term in August, or the close of first six weeks, according to information from the office of D. A. Shirley. On the list of summer graduates are the names of fifty-eight students, asking for B. A. and B. S. degrees.

Of the fourteen academic studies chosen by this group for their major subjects, English is apparently the most popular field of labor. Fourteen of those asking for degrees are majoring in English. The fields of education and history have attracted ten students each. Education majors have a variety of branches of this practical course from which to select. Girls who elect to major in this course have chosen either primary education or elementary education, while the men in these ranks have selected chiefly school administration.

Next in demand as a major course is home economics. Six girls will receive their degrees in the school of home economics here in August. Mathematics and manual training each have three boys who have elected to major in this course. Courses represented with two majors are: Biology, Spanish, and Agriculture. Those represented with one major each are: art, music, geography, public speaking, and physical education.

Those students who expect to receive their degrees at the close of the summer quarter are: Lorena Holland, James M. Metcalf, Vera Fry, Sue Brown Anderson, Joe Weaver, Foye Terry, Thelma Brummett, James B. Speer, Nelius Tedford, Belva Cain, Orline Clinkscapes, Amos M. Walker, Marie Lowe, Caudie Ola Brown, Guy B. Tabor, Dalma Fry, Ruth Handley, Ollie Johnson, Lula Mae Irons, Delmer Ashworth, D. C. Arthur, George Heath, Delbert Lowes, Helen Duke, Isaac Mater, Cleatice Crump, Virgil Thomas, Leo Forrest,

Trades Day Here Draws Good Crowd Despite Harvesting

Value found its reward in Canyon Monday when merchants found that they could pull business while two-third's of the county's population was busy with harvest and preparations for harvest.

Many firms reported entirely satisfactory increases in business on Trades Day and only an occasional report of normal business was heard.

With the results obtained last Monday, all merchants were enthusiastic over prospects for the July trades day when most of the wheat harvest will have been finished.

Crop Specialist Visits in County

P. C. Mangelsdorf, agronomist in charge of small grain investigations at the Texas Experimental Station, College Station, spent the day Friday, June 21, in Randall County in company with county agent Upchurch visiting the wheat fields of the county. Mr. Mangelsdorf is assisting in identifying various wheat diseases that are found in the Panhandle, and also arranging for some wheat variety tests on farms over the wheat belt. He expressed considerable surprise at the tremendous acreage of good wheat in Randall county.

Also he was much interested in the improvements in methods and harvesting machinery.

HAIL DAMAGES LARGE ACREAGE NEAR WAYSIDE

MORE THAN 3000 ACRES HIT BY STORM.

J. W. McCreery Loses 8000 Bushels In Two Storms Friday and Sunday.

Hail storms in and near Wayside Friday and Sunday wiped out many wheat fields completely and caused heavy damage to others. Twelve farmers, all owning large wheat acreages, reported damage closely approximating total loss.

Those farmers suffering most severely were Adam McCreery, J. E. McGehee, Kelly McGehee, Tom Knox, J. W. McCreery, Wiatt Heizer, J. C. Payne, J. E. Caldwell, and Thomas Gillham.

Both storms swept up the south of the Palo Duro Canyon, completely leveling the wheat in many instances. Several of these farmers already had started cutting but none had harvested any appreciable percentage of their crop.

J. W. McCreery, the heaviest loser, suffered total loss on 1000 acres of wheat which were expected to produce more than 8000 bushels of wheat. Others of the group lost from 200 to 600 acres in the two storms.

Hail storms during the last two weeks have followed the Palo Duro consistently, causing damage around Groom, Conway, and other towns in the vicinity of the canyon.

Thirteen States Represented Here In Student Body

A survey of the enrollment at the West Texas State Teachers College for the summer term reveals that out of a student body of 1266 there are sixty-three people who have come from points that lie outside the state of Texas.

The states represented in the summer attendance are as follows: New Mexico, 40; Oklahoma, 6; Kansas, 4; Arizona, 3; and one each from North Dakota, Michigan, Kentucky, Colorado, California, Mississippi, and Arkansas; and two from Nevada.

Twelve states besides Texas and 113 counties in Texas have contributed the largest summer school attendance since the opening of the Teachers College, which shows a net gain of 164 students over last year's total enrollment during the first half of the summer session. An exceptionally heavy registration of new students is expected for the second half of the summer.

Trip is Made To Carlsbad Cavern By W. T. Students

Trips to Carlsbad Cavern are proving more popular with the summer students than any other of these being sponsored by the College. This week-end three groups of students made the trip.

One group consisted of Misses Lenna McGlanney, Dora Holt, Alma Sprowls, Ornie Walker, Nina Collins, Lucille Collins, Thelma Kinard, Beulah Fort, Inez Casey. Another carload included Misses Erna Alsap, Edna Graham, Marie Fronabarger, Elizabeth Slaton, Carrie Jenkins. Three girls from the Charles House also made this tour. They were Misses Marguerite Carpenter, Roxie Hancock, and Eula Tyler.

Fifteen students have signed up to make the trip to Carlsbad Cavern for the week-end June 29-July 1, and four have signed up to go to Pike's Peak. This trip includes other such interesting points as Capulin Mountain, Raton Pass, Trinidad, Pueblo, Colorado Springs and the Royal Gorge.

The College bus will be used to carry large groups of students to the canyons for all day excursions, or if sufficient numbers wish to go on the longer trips, the bus will be used for those.

A number of interesting recreational week-end tours are planned to be carried out during the entire summer. These include trips to Taos, New Mexico; to Sierra Blanca Peak in Colorado; to Albuquerque and the cliff dwellings in New Mexico; the Ruidosa Valley; Carlsbad Cavern; Pike's Peak; the Palo Duro Canyon; and industrial trips to Amarillo and the oil field region of the Panhandle.

Misses Florence Jones and Edna Daughette spent the week-end visiting in Miami.

Carl Merriwether of Lockney visited here yesterday.

THE GOLDEN JUBILEE

It was the pleasure of the publisher of the News to slip away from Austin and the tiresome Robison investigation and attend the Fifth Annual Convention of the Texas Press Association at Wichita Falls.

This meeting was the largest ever held by the Association. An effort had been made to secure a large attendance which met with very great success. More new members attended this year than at any meeting of the Association. The City that Faith Built did the nice thing in the way of entertaining. The true western hospitality was extended by all citizens to the large number of visitors. While business conditions are more or less slow, as is true of every oil center, Wichita Falls is going forward getting ready for a bigger and more beautiful city and will be ready to ride the crest of the prosperity wave which is destined to reach West Texas this year.

Irrigation, dairying and poultry are engaging the interest of the farmers and taking the place of oil speculation.

Secretary Sam P. Harben distributed copies of "The Golden Jubilee" which is the complete history of the activities of the Texas Press Association during the past fifty years. The versatile Jim Lowrey of Honey Grove wrote the history in a most entertaining manner. Pictures of more than 500 members of the Association were printed in the book, which is in the form of a college annual.

Friday afternoon the members were taken by special train to Vernon, the home of Ray Nichols, who was elected Vice-president for the coming year. Nichols has one of the best printing plants in Northwest Texas. Vernon is a delightful town with a progressive citizenship.

The association elected to go to Corpus Christi next year. The dry land boys are willing every three or four years to visit the coast and to enjoy the sea breezes and a dip in the Gulf.

So far as the legislature is concerned, the Robison investigation has been a most tiresome affair and consuming a great deal of time. With the special session ending automatically on July 2, prospects are for a third called session. Unless there is an agreement on the appropriations, the third called session will follow immediately. However, it is expected that an agreement will be reached and that the called session will not come until this fall.

Attention is again called to the two constitutional amendments to be voted upon July 16th. One amendment calls for an increase in salary of the Governor from four thousand dollars to ten thousand dollars per year. As we stated a few weeks ago, the adoption of this amendment does not guarantee that bigger business men would run for office, but it does show that the people are willing to pay the Governor somewhat in proportion to the expense of holding the office and making the campaign.

The other amendment provides for nine judges in the supreme court and keeps the court open twelve months in the year. The adoption of the amendment does not add to the cost of the supreme court as the state now has six appointive commissioners at the same salary of the judges and allows the court a three months summer vacation.

The voter should seriously consider the necessity of these amendments when voting on July 16th.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

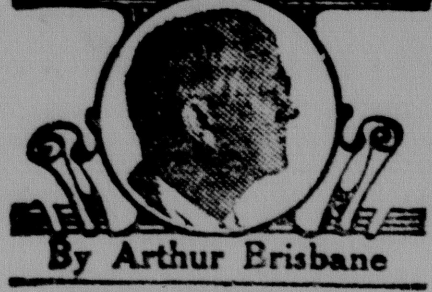

The gayest, brightest day in all the year is Independence Day, for no true American can help being thrilled by the stirring events and tumultuous national adventures that preceded the signing of the Declaration of Independence and the birth of the United States as a land dedicated to freedom and equality.

In fact, the emotions of patriotism aroused by the Fourth of July are so powerful that many times they have led persons to excess.

In a sun-burst of joy, persons have not exercised enough care in celebration, and countless tragedies have unfortunately been the result.

Fireworks produce beautiful effects and help greatly in the proper celebration of this day of days, but great care must be taken in their use. The more dangerous kinds of fireworks ought to be discarded altogether.

Above all, no parent should allow a child to remain unwatched on this day. Remember the words of Ed Howe: "It is better to be safe than sorry."

HOOVER'S COMMON SENSE WHEN TO MARRY. TEACHING HOW TO THINK. CRIME NEVER PAYS.

The House, rejecting the debenture plan, depriving middlemen of a comfortable profit on farm exports.

Intelligent farmers know that it wouldn't have given them much if anything.

The President is supported in his common sense attitude.

Thirty-five, for men, is a good age to marry although forty-five is a better age.

Thirty-five for women, forty-five to fifty-five for men, would be the best from the eugenist's point of view.

So at least said the Greek philosopher. Modern common sense says the best time to marry is when you fall in love, that when you marry young you keep out of mischief, if you stay away from Reno and Paris.

Why should men marry after forty and women after thirty? Because children get intellect and health from the mother. They should be born when the mother's health and intellect have reached highest development and before either begin to fail.

Children inherit intelligence chiefly from their fathers, when the fathers HAVE it. In men that develop fully, about 1 in 1,000 full intelligence is not developed until forty-five or fifty.

Dean Hutchins, soon to be head of the University of Chicago and youngest president of any big college in the United States, says the teachers' real work is teaching students to THINK.

"A university is not made to reform or amuse young men, but to teach them to think, to think straight if possible, but to think always for themselves."

No educator ever paid anything more important or expressed more accurately the purpose of education.

But how can you teach men TO THINK? That is the question. You must take them young. Professor Hutchins says, "It is sad but true that at eighteen or nineteen it is too late to take a boy and make a man of him and interest him in his studies. He is solidified too often in more ways than one."

Dr. Cowley, Chicago University's specialist in psychology, testing forty gangsters and racketeers for mental speed, found them pitifully slow.

That might have been expected. The criminals tested could not even answer quickly questions as to what they would do in an emergency while committing a crime.

Because their minds are slow they are criminals. If they were not slow they would know that crime never pays.

Lindbergh broke half of the young female hearts marrying. Now the Prince of Wales, it is said, will marry Princess Ingrid of Sweden. Nothing left for the dreams of young ladies.

WHAT HAPPENED SO FAR

Tom Bilbeck is the narrator. He is a fat newspaper writer who drives a tumbledown car he calls Grandmother Page. He is in love with Maryella, his rival being Jim Cooper. The three are members of an amateur dramatic group. Plans for a play at the Old Soldiers' Home are under way. Grandmother Page has engine trouble while Maryella is out driving with Bilbeck, and Cooper, passing in a big roadster, taunts him. After Maryella has left Bilbeck is able to start his car again.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER II

Our version of "Pygmalion and Galatea" would doubtless surprise you if you are at all familiar with the original, in which Pygmalion is the artist and carves the lady in the sketch out of a block of marble.

We started out to rehearse it that way, but ran into difficulties when the matter of costumes came up for discussion. It seemed advisable that the statue should wear white tights and white greasepaint on the face in order to carry out the illusion. All the ladies of the club were quite content that it should be so, but when it came to assigning the parts each and every one refused to be Galatea.

For a time it looked as if we would have to fall back on some little sketch of Shakespeare's until Maryella made the practical suggestion that we change the story. Her idea was to make Galatea a sculptorine who hammers a hunk of stone into a beautiful male statue by the name of Pygmalion.

Can you imagine an anti-feminist thinking up a thought like that?

Maryella's suggestion carried. As the literary man of the organization, I was appointed to doctor up the manuscript to fit the change of characters. Later, much to my surprise and in spite of my protests the stellar role of Pygmalion was forced upon me.

Tonight was to be the dress rehearsal and on the following evening we were scheduled to give a trial performance in the barn at the Old Soldiers' Home. The trial performance was for the double purpose of getting easy on our parts and of making the old soldiers realize that war is not so terrible after all.

When I returned to my bachelor rooms in town I had only time to change to some dry clothing and hurry over to the rehearsal without getting anything to eat. Food did not appeal to me anyway. Neither did anything else least of all rehearsing a lot of fool love-talk. My own romance had suffered such a disheartening setback that I was in no mood to enact the role of a hand-hammered Romeo of mythology.

But I went just the same. You know how hard it is to step out of the routine business of your life just because some disaster has befallen you. Your perceptions become numbed and you wonder vaguely why the sun is shining, but you go on doing the things that are expected of you just as you have always done.

"Business as usual," is not the motto of an exceptional nation. It is the underlying principle of the progress of the human race.

The Sheridan Dramatic Club had borrowed for rehearsals the stage of the local opera house, which was vacant that week. It was there that I wended my desolate way.

I was late, but it didn't make much difference, as all during the first act the statue of Pygmalion was a papiermache figure. Between the acts I was supposed to take the statue in the same pose so that a little later I could come to life in response to Galatea's wish.

When I came in they were rehearsing with the dummy. Every thing appeared to be going very well. Maryella looked absolutely ravishing in the Greek drapery, and Jim Cooper was doing the best he could to impersonate a skinny Greek warrior.

He was even thinner than I had suspected. As a Highlander he would never be a conspicuous success. Any one could tell that at a glance.

The part of a young sculptor's apprentice was taken by Mrs. Hemmingway, a dazzling blond who was worth going miles to behold in a short Greek tunic and sandals. She wouldn't have fooled anyone but a blind man into thinking she was a boy, but nobody minded that. She had talents enough to get into the Ziegfeld chorus any day.

There were a dozen other parts played with intent to kill in the good old amateur way. I discovered former male friends hidden behind bushy beards that dropped off occasionally at a critical moment, leaving the actor bald-faced and speechless; and ladies I used to know disguised as Hellenic maidens by doing their hair into a Psyche knot and trimming their best nighties with a Greek key-design and an occasional swastika.

Off stage, doing a piece of embroidery while she waited for her cue, was Mrs. George P. Lillilove, the wife of the most popular undertaker in town. In Greek robes Mrs. Lillilove looked almost exactly like a hay stack with a tarpaulin over it.

I slipped into my dressing-room unobserved. My costume was there. I had not seen it before, so I was a trifle surprised at the bulk of it. The whole thing could have been put in the pocket of a dress waistcoat without spoiling the shape of it any. It was silk and white, but it seemed awfully thin. I played safe by wearing my underwear beneath it.

There was no full-length mirror in my room, so I could not get the entire effect, but it looked all right as far as I could see. It was easy to make up my face all white and put on a white wig which was provided for me. I slipped on my overcoat over the costume to step up on the stage.

The curtain was down between the acts. I took my place on the pedestal, slightly nervous but determined to get through somehow if the seams of the tights did not part. The stage was dimly illumined with blue moonlight. Just before the curtain rose I dropped the overcoat behind me.

I stood motionless during the introductory music. There was a flutter of surprise among the members of the club who were not on the stage at that moment and had stepped out into the auditorium to steal a look from the other side of the footlights. It must have been beautiful. I know I was conscious of looking well in that pose and lighting. I flexed my muscles to make them stand out better.

Galatea entered. She was dressed in a gold-trimmed robe. On her neck was a single strand of beautiful pearls. I recognized them as Mrs. Hemmingway's. Maryella had borrowed them because their owner couldn't wear them for the performance, as she was playing the part of a boy.

Galatea's eyes were on the floor, pensive. She came slowly to the pedestal on which I stood. She knelt. She looked up.

She held her pose for a long time without saying a word—without expressing even a whispered wish that I would come to life. Maryella was wordless.

"What's the trouble?" inquired the coach, who stood, book in hand, just over the foot-lights. "Miss Waite, your line is, 'My dearest wish—'"

"No," she stopped him impatiently. "I know my lines. It's the statue."

Her tone was full of vexation. "What's the matter?" I inquired, without abandoning my attitude. "This is the same pose I've been taking every night at rehearsal ever since we began."

"It isn't that. You are bow-legged."

She spoke accusingly, as if I had made a blunder of some sort on purpose.

"Oh."

That was a sensitive subject with me.

"I didn't know there was anything criminal in being slightly curved. It really comes from strength. Lots of men are."

"But no one ever saw a bow-legged statue before," she argued petulantly. "I don't care personally. I suppose that lots of really estimable men have personal peculiarities; but can you imagine a sculptor creating a statue intentionally bow-legged? Why didn't you tell me?" she wailed. "Why didn't you tell me?"

"Well," I temporized, "I didn't think I knew you well enough for that."

"The play is ruined," she declared.

"Not at all," I said with as much injured dignity as I could command in white tights. "You can easily get some one else to play this part. If you look around the club you can doubtless find someone with legs like bean-poles."

"Come, people," interrupted the coach pleasantly. "We mustn't waste time. Remember there is a lot to do before we leave here this evening."

"Don't be silly," she replied. "No one else could learn the part in time."

"Why not try standing sideways to the audience all the time," suggested Jim Cooper, who with his nose-glasses on and a cigarette in his mouth was the beau ideal of a Greek warrior.

"I know what to do."

Mrs. Hemmingway came to the rescue with a practical suggestion.

"You can buy a pair of those things that chorus girls wear sometimes—symmetrical, I think they are called."

"Oh!" said several of the ladies at once, looking pointedly at Mrs. Hemmingway's shapely substructure.

"No, I don't wear them myself," she assured them in response to the unspoken question, "but I've heard that there are such things."

"All right," said the coach. "Go on with the dialogue."

The balance of the act was plowed through somehow. I had to play several love scenes with Maryella, but I was so acutely conscious of her criticism that I did them very badly.

The only scene that I played with any enthusiasm was one in which I was supposed to wrestle with Jim Cooper in the role of the Greek warrior. Even that turned out ill for me because it made his head ache where I bumped it on the stage, and Maryella hovered over him like a hen with chickens all during the intermission while they were setting the stage for the third act.

I got tired of listening to her sympathizing with him and went out in the auditorium by myself. I did not care to talk to any one. To criticize my acting was one thing, but to make personal remarks about the shape of my legs was going too far.

I made up my mind to withdraw from the Sheridan Dramatic Club as soon as the performance of "Pygmalion and Galatea" was over. I would not leave them in the lurch now, as I might do and wreck the entire performance; but as soon as it would not be conspicuous I would assert my dignity and resign on the ground that it took too much of my time. I admired Maryella, but she could hardly expect me to stand for being made fun of before Jim Cooper.

"I think it is an awfully funny play, don't you?" inquired a voice behind me.

I looked around. In the aisle stood Mrs. Hemmingway, a plump sylph in the half-light of the auditorium. She apparently wanted to sit down, so I made room for her beside me.

"You think it is quite funny?" I repeated interrogatively.

"Yes, I didn't realize it so much until I saw the costumes. I didn't know you were going to be a clown."

I suppose she would have laughed herself sick at the Venus de Milo. Mrs. Hemmingway is a movie fan, and her sense of humor must have been curdled by this comic-fall stuff. Here I was gotten up to represent a beautiful work of the sculptor's art and she had missed the idea entirely and thought I was meant to be funny.

"The best scene," she went on.

America by storm

The New Pontiac Big Six has been called the "step-up" car because it enables forward-looking people to step up in motor car quality without leaving the low-priced field. And since the first of the year, when the new Pontiac was announced, the step-up idea in automobile buying has taken America by storm.

Pontiac Big Six, $745 to $895, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Bumpers, spring covers and Lovejoy shock absorbers regular equipment at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values . . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only reasonable charges for handling and for financing when the Time Payment Plan is used.

FARM WOMAN TAKES TRIP IN HER GUEST BEDROOM

A two weeks' vacation spent in a spare bedroom is the unique experience related by Ellen A. Hamilton, a farm woman. Mrs. Hamilton's funds were too low to take a New England trip that she had long planned, but her health being delicate, she felt that she must have a rest. First she bought two new dresses and stocked the house with food that required little cooking, then packed a suitcase as for a trip, gathered up a package of books on New England travel and moved into the guest room which she had never occupied.

"Each afternoon I took a leisurely bath," Mrs. Hamilton writes, "and poked as much as I pleased with my dressing. I wore all my new things and had plenty of time to curl my hair. There was time for reading but there was no sock darning, you can bet. At the end of two weeks I felt like a different person and that vacation cost us little except a few extra dollars on the grocery bill."

The SPEED TRUCK with two complete power ranges

THE SIX-SPEED SPECIAL has a 2-speed rear axle, which makes it especially desirable for rural hauling. A shift of a lever at your right hand throws from one power range to the other instantly, so that you can have swift speed for the straight-away or ten times the pulling power for tough going. This original feature and the other qualities have made this truck immensely popular.

To match the pulling power of the 2-speed axle, the Six-Speed Special has 4-wheel brakes, sturdy chassis members throughout, heavy-duty springs, comfortable enclosed cab, a rugged economical engine, and provision for power take-off. For every kind of rural hauling, get acquainted with the Six-Speed Special. We will give you a convincing demonstration on request.

PREXY TALKS IN ASSEMBLY ON EDUCATION

SOME MODERN TRENDS IN HIGHER EDUCATION ARE DISCUSSED BY PRESIDENT.

President J. A. Hill of the West Texas State Teachers College lectured to the student body of more than 1200 people Tuesday on some modern trends in higher education.

All institutions of higher learning are becoming teacher-training institutions to a much greater degree than ever before, and graduate study is coming to be a further preparation for teaching. The Teachers Colleges themselves, observed Mr. Hill, are beginning to enter the field of productive scholarship, through scientific investigation, especially as applied to educational problems. There is a tendency to get away from the well-established lecture and recitation method and to make use of a system which utilizes the initiative, interest, and self reliance of the student.

Higher education is tending toward concentration into large units, and toward throwing the greater share of the cost on the individual students rather than on the state.

Probably one of the most important trends is that of specialization within the field of education. Teachers are being trained to teach a particular thing rather than receiving a general teachers' training course and being expected to teach anything. School boards and superintendents are more and more reaching the point where teachers will not be employed who do not have definite and specific training to teach a particular branch of work.

URGES FULLER SKIRTS FOR WOMEN PAST FORTY

Women past forty should wear fuller skirts than the ordinary styles so that they can sit down gracefully, says Jane Warren Wells, fashion expert, who has just returned from Paris.

"Dresses fitted to the personality as well as the hips and waist will keep friends permanently guessing to a woman's actual age in years," says Mrs. Warren. "The sleeveless, backless frocks, so popular with young ladies today, should be definitely avoided by the woman who has arms too large or too thin to be attractive," she continues. "Such types are sure to find comfort in the little jackets made of the same fabric as the dress. They are becoming and conceal so beautifully any imperfections."

"Slender mature women will delight in the fashionable berthas that adorn shoulders and provide a soft, graceful line. Thin chests will find lacy, soft jabots a veritable boon and the surplice-front proves a friend to the thin and stout as it makes the front line less severe and gives interest to an otherwise simple dress."

"Irregular hemlines allow a happy compromise in skirt lengths and should be taken advantage of by older women. They are especially becoming for women with good taste in shoes and who buy with discrimination stockings of the right color and who take pride in seeing that there are no wrinkles."

HAS PLAN TO STABILIZE PRICES OF LIVE STOCK

Limitation of the size of meat animals that are sent to market, is the basis of a plan just announced by C. B. Denman, president of the National Live Stock Producers' Association, to stabilize prices of stock, give the farmer a greater profit and ultimately to protect the consumer.

Writing of his plan, Denman proposes that through the Federal Farm Bureau, packers and producers, a price for hogs be set, low enough to discourage the inefficient producer and to encourage consumption, and high enough to compensate efficient production. He would have the price for the average sized hog, perhaps 200 pounds, higher than for those overfed and weighing much more, which he considers inefficient production.

This, he says, would avert a tragedy like that of 1928 when 49,800,000 hogs were sold for $140,000,000 less than 40,600,000 hogs brought in 1926. In 1928 the fluctuation of prices for hogs was 40 per cent and three-fourths of the total production were sold for less than cost.

Denman proposes later to warn consumers what a fair price would be at retail for meats. He points out several cases in which the same cuts were sold at prices varying 18 cents.

Writing of his plan, Denman proposes that through the Federal Farm Bureau, packers and producers, a price for hogs be set, low enough to discourage the inefficient producer and to encourage consumption, and high enough to compensate efficient production. He would have the price for the average sized hog, perhaps 200 pounds, higher than for those overfed and weighing much more, which he considers inefficient production.

This, he says, would avert a tragedy like that of 1928 when 49,800,000 hogs were sold for $140,000,000 less than 40,600,000 hogs brought in 1926. In 1928 the fluctuation of prices for hogs was 40 per cent and three-fourths of the total production were sold for less than cost.

Denman proposes later to warn consumers what a fair price would be at retail for meats. He points out several cases in which the same cuts were sold at prices varying 18 cents.

Everybody wants to be attractive. It is a just and natural ambition. But no one can be attractive without a clear skin.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils, eczema and other skin eruptions as being an indication that the body's power of resistance is low.

The sure way to remedy this condition is to restore the blood-cells to normal.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and

They May Call You

When the firemen call, dressed for action, it is too late to think of insurance. The loss may be large—or the loss may be small—but a loss nevertheless unless you have your home and personal property well insured. Winter is the season of the year when fire losses are greatest. Putting off taking out a fire insurance policy is a gamble which no one can afford. Let us explain the economy which may be enjoyed in various kinds of policies.

Never Saw Equal of Sargon, He Says

"I believe I had about the worse case of stomach trouble in Texas, but after taking two bottles of Sargon and one bottle of Sargon Soft Mass Pills, I am in the very pink of condition."

W. H. NEWBY

"Right after every meal I would have sour stomach. I suffered day and night. I was at dinner one day and a sharp pain hit me right under my liver and extended through to the pit of my stomach and almost 'knocked me out.' I was so dizzy for hours afterwards and the pain just stayed in my side."

"My kidneys were acting so freely I had to be up four or five times every night. Loss of sleep made me weak and nervous and my whole system was badly run-down. My liver was out of order. I was badly constipated, and was continually taking laxatives."

"Since taking the wonderful Sargon treatment my only trouble is to keep from eating too much, and I never have a sign of indigestion. All the pain is gone from my side, my nerves are in fine shape, and I sleep fine. I'm no longer constipated. Sargon Soft Mass Pills certainly are wonderful for they do their work thoroughly without griping like other laxatives."

"I had read a lot about Sargon, but I never had the slightest idea I would get such remarkable results from it in so short a time." The above statement was made by W. H. Newby, well-known resident of Dallas. He owns the Live and Let Live Barber Shop at 3906-A Holmes St.

Sargon may be obtained in Canyon at J. J. Walker Drug Store. (Adv.)

You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Randall once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon W. C. Gregory, whose residence is unknown, who is alleged to be non-resident of the State of Texas, to be and appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Randall County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in the City of Canyon, Texas, on the First Monday in August, A. D. 1929, the same being the 5th day of August A. D. 1929, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 24 day of April A. D. 1929, in a suit, numbered on the Docket of said Court, No. _____, wherein, Louella Gregory is plaintiff, and W. C. Gregory is defendant; the nature of plaintiff's demand being substantially, as follows, to-wit:

Plaintiff, Mrs. Louella Gregory, a resident of Randall County, Texas, married W. C. Gregory the 25th day of August, 1912, at Throckmorton, Texas, and plaintiff and defendant lived together as man and wife until on or about May 1st, 1918, when without any provocation or cause whatever defendant voluntarily left and abandoned plaintiff with the intention of finally separating and living apart from her, and has continued so to do up to the time of the filing of this petition, since which time they have not lived together as man and wife. Plaintiff and defendant have been separated, and such abandonment on the part of the defendant has continued for over three years; that defendant abandoned and deserted plaintiff on or about May 1st, 1918, since which time plaintiff has not lived with defendant nor has she seen nor heard of him or his whereabouts since May 1st, 1918.

Plaintiff further alleges that the defendant voluntarily left the plaintiff and that they have since lived apart without cohabitation for ten years next preceding this suit.

Plaintiff further alleges the defendant's actions and conduct towards her, by reason of such desertion and abandonment are of such nature as to render their living together insupportable, premises considered.

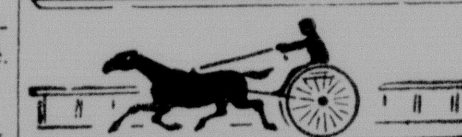

Wherefore, plaintiff prays the Court that the defendant be cited to answer this petition, that on final hearing plaintiff have judgment dissolving such marriage relation, for costs of suit, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, that she may be justly entitled to.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court on the first day of next term thereof this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

CAMPAIGN FOR

the hardwood floor hostilities in
the drive for the Intramural basketball championship Tuesday.
Weathered won by a score of 26
to 16 after Pool had taken a two point lead in the opening seconds
of play.In the second encounter of the season Hardy's powerful five downed Atkinson by a score of 28 to 14 in a game played more or less
by spurts, the spurts coming occasionally after one or two of the men had recovered enough wind
from the previous minutes of play
to make a strong comeback; that shows signs of a real battle in the championship series.The third encounter was characterized by the old grit and determination to win by Prof. Hazelwood's five, only to be nosed out by Smith by the score of 23 to 11.Atkinson came back in the fourth clash of the local hard wood floor tournament and administered
a 27-17 surprise defeat to the fast Weathered team after losing his opener to Hardy. This was one of the hardest fought games witnessed thus far in the tournament.The fifth game still shows the old dope bucket to be upset. Pool
came in with a strong last quarter rally to sweep Hardy under to the score of 29-19.At this time there is only one team left in the 1000 percent column. This is Smith who has played only one game, defeating Hazelwood.If you are a good dooper, dope
this out. Smith leads with a thousand percent with one game played, all others have played two games. Weathered beat Pool, Hardy beat Atkinson, Smith beat Hazel-

WESTMINSTER GUILD MEETSOn Tuesday afternoon of this week the Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church had their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Sanford Black. After a social half hour during which Mrs.
Black served lovely refreshments, a short business meeting preceded an interesting and inspirational Bible lesson on Romans led by Miss Agnes Meyers. The Guild adjourned at 5 o'clock to meet with Miss Pearl Black on July 9, at which time Rev. W. C. Kunze will lead the lesson on First Corinthians.M. E. CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTMiss Flora Foreman, a Medical Missionary to Africa, will occupy the pulpit Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, and we urge every one to hear her who can. She is one of our very own missionaries from the Northwest Texas Conference and she will have a great message for you. The pastor will preach at the morning hour and we extend to all a cordial welcome to all of the services of the day.
C. E. JAMESON, Pastor.FORE BETTER OR FORE WORSEHe loved his wife devoutly—
His faith in her was great—
Till, on the green,
In seventeen,
Her puts ran up to eight!
She thought him strong and able,
A man among all men—
Until the sap
Got in a trap
And then got out in ten.
Their home life it was happy
In fair or wicked weather—
But, sad to say,
Not after they went in for golf together.

—H. I. Phillips.

THE MODERN SCHEDULEFor the girls the period of innocent childhood has been shortened nearly ten years.SOME PARTIESA White House reception is a

CHAMPIONSHIP*OPENING GAMES IN INTRA-MURAL BASKETBALL PROM-ISE EXCITING RACE.Pool and Weathered opened the hardwood floor hostilities in
the drive for the Intramural basketball championship Tuesday.
Weathered won by a score of 26
to 16 after Pool had taken a two
point lead in the opening seconds
of play.In the second encounter of the season Hardy's powerful five downed Actkinson by a score of 28 to 14 in a game played more or less
by spurts, the spurts coming occasionally after one or two of the
men had recovered enough wind
from the previous minutes of play
to make a strong comeback; that shows signs of a real battle in the championship series.The third encounter was characterized by the old grit and determination to win by Prof. Haz-
elwood's five, only to be nosed out by Smith by the score of 23 to 11.Actkinson came back in the fourth clash of the local hard wood
floor tournament and administered
a 27-17 surprise defeat to the fast
Weathered team after losing his opener to Hardy. This was one of the hardest fought games witnessed thus far in the tournament.The fifth game still shows the old dope bucket to be upset. Pool
came in with a strong last quarter
rally to sweep Hardy under to the
team left in the 1000 percent column. This is Smith who has played only one game, defeating Hazelwood.If you are a good dooper, dope
this out. Smith leads with a thousand percent with one game played, all others have played two games. Weathered beat Pool, Hardy beat Actkinson, Smith beat Hazelwood, Actkinson beat Weathered, and Pool beat Hardy.WOMAN'S CORNERWomen are much more successful as mothers than they are in any other capacity. At any rate they have a virtual monopoly of the field.ALL IS FORGIVENA girl has as much right to try to stay young as a man has to try to stay solvent. It is the same instinct and is prompted by the same necessity.Another reason why married men should not be elected to the legislature is because they might have to do too much explaining why they were not present at each and every session.As a topic for discussion and statistics no one can deny that prohibition is a success.FORD TRUCK FOR SALE: In
